the Foundation. The 3 didn't stay there too long as XU invited V and Jack back to his hotel room at the W hotel downtown.

Once at the W, XU offered V and Jack a drink. V declined saying she didn't want to drink alcohol. XU insisted saying "You have to drink this...Don't be a pussy". V took the glass of clear liquid and drank it. V said XU poured her 2 more and told V to drink them both, which she did.

V remembers XU asking Jack to leave his hotel room and come back later. V said she was almost "immediately numb", couldn't move but was aware of what was going on and being said around her.

V asked her friend Jack not to leave her alone with XU in his room. V remembers XU insisted that Jack left, which Jack did. V added XU "grabbed her forearm" when she tried to get up and leave with Jack.

V was sitting on the couch, after escorting Jack out of his room XU came back, sat next to V and started "to grope" V. V told XU she didn't want to do any of that, and to stop. XU picked V up and took her to his bed. V said she was texting Jack to come back and get her. Once V was on his bed, XU started undressing and touching V. V said "Stop...I don't want to have sex with you..Stop". V said she must have repeated her refusal 10 times.

V said she started screaming for help loudly, but was physically unable to move. W Security came to XU's room inquiring about the loud disturbance. While XU was talking to W Security, V managed to call her friend Jack asking for him to come get her. XU apologized to Security at the door for being loud, and shut the door. V said XU came back, saw V had her phone, took it from V and threw it away. XU then "digitally" penetrated V's vagina twice, while V continued screaming for help.

Two W Security officers came back, along with Jack, whom said V's phone line was open and heard V's pleas for help.

V said XU told W Security "I'll let 1(d) go".

V said Jack came inside XU's room, got her and they left with Security.

Later that morning, around 0300hrs, XU sent V a "WeChat" message saying: " Let's hang out next time..We should hang out more..Didn't have enough fun tonight".

V knows little about XU, besides XU just graduated from UCSD, is in Seattle for a summer internship, and has been admitted to attend UC Berkeley Graduate School of Mechanical Engineering in the fall.

Gaoge Xu 8-27-1996 used a mobile application, "WeChat" to invite V/Y.W. to be friends. WeChat is an online program that is structured like Facebook. This application allows you to have friends, show interest on a page or wall that you can design and use as an instant messaging service. Xu and Y.W. used this app to communicate for a short time before asking to meet for dinner and to go to a nightclub.

Xu and Y.W. were finally agree on a day and made the arrangement to meet at the Unicorn bar for dinner before going to Foundation nightclub. As Xu and Y.W. made the plans, a discussion of getting Y.W. a fake ID or passport arose. Xu encouraged Y.W. to obtain a friend's passport or to get a fake ID so that she would be able to gain access to the bar and nightclub. Foundation nightclub has security that ensures everyone entering is at least 21-years-old.

Y.W. and a friend, Ma, Wen J aka Jack arrived at Foundation Night Club around 2230 Hours on July 6th of 2018. Y.W. text Xu and asked where he was. Xu, Y.W. and Ma all met outside of Foundation and walked in. Xu ensured that Y.W. who is only 19-years-old got into the 21-year-old and over night club. Xu met other friends inside of Foundation and separated from Y.W. and Ma. After about 30 to 60 minutes, Xu asked Y.W. and Ma if they wanted to go back to his hotel room to drink. Y.W. wanted to see the W Hotel and Ma went as well. Ma drove all three to the W Hotel and followed Xu into the room with Y.W.

Once in the Hotel room, Xu offered both Ma and Y.W. a drink. Y.W. declined initially, however, was finally talked into drinking the alcohol. Xu provided a glass of what was believed by Y.W. to be Vodka. Xu who knew that Y.W. was not the drinking age, talked her into drinking the liquid contained in a 12 Oz glass. A shot of alcohol is approximately 1.5 Oz which shows that this glass is nearly 10 shots. Y.W. began to feel the effects of the alcohol and tried to leave. Xu talked Y.W. into staying when Ma left.

Xu wasted no time and began to force himself onto Y.W. Xu started to remove Y.W.'s tight one piece dress causing pain from digging his fingers/hands into her sides. Y.W. told Xu multiple times to stop and that she did not want to have sex with him. Xu continued and ignored Y.W.'s commands to stop. Y.W. attempted to leave the hotel room and Xu physically restrained her. Y.W. was not very strong nor did she have great balance due to the alcohol that Xu talked her into drinking and was easy to contain and keep in the room against her will.

Xu forced his finger(s) inside of Y.W.'s vagina and penetrated while trying to arouse her. Y.W. continued to tell Xu to stop.

Y.W. was able to use her cell phone and the WeChat app to contact Ma where she pleaded and begged for help. In messages received from Y.W. she is begging Ma to return to save her because she is being raped.

Ma returned to the room with Security and was able to go inside and save Y.W. Ma witnessed Y.W. putting her clothing back on and crying. Security asked if they should call the police, however, Y.W. was afraid due to her being underage and having consumed alcohol.

During a phone interview of Xu, he admitted to knowing Y.W. and meeting her at the locations listed. Xu admitted that Y.W. and Ma returned to his hotel, however, stated that nothing happened and they sat looking at the mountains. Xu asked why Y.W. waited so long to report the incident if it really happened. Xu did provide a picture that was sent to him where Y.W. was wearing tight clothing and was interpreted by Xu to be an attempt to turn him on. Reading the messages, Y.W. asked if the outfit was appropriate for the night club and Xu told her no.

Under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Washington, I certify that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief. Signed and dated by me this 7 day of August, at Seattle, Washington.

Case Investigation Report: 2018-249014

Investigation:

On 7-6-2018 this case was assigned for review. Upon reviewing the initial police report, I found that V/[1(d)] met suspect Xu on a cellular phone application called "WeChat." After talking for a while and exchanging phone numbers, [1(d)] and Xu decided to meet in person at Foundation Night Club. [1(d)] arrived at the nightclub with her friend, witness, Ma (AKA Jack) and met Xu. After a while inside of the nightclub the three-left going to Xu's hotel room at the W, a short distance away. Once at the hotel room, Xu offered drinks to both Ma and [1(d)]. Both Ma and [1(d)] initially declined the drink and Xu insisted. Xu told Ma to leave the hotel and to leave [1(d)] there.

Once [1(d)] and Xu were alone he started to make sexual advances towards her. Xu convinced [1(d)] to drink three small glasses of clear liquid believed to be alcohol. [1(d)] attempted to leave but was grabbed by Xu and prevented from leaving the hotel room. [1(d)] told Xu to stop and informed him that she did not want to have sex with him. [1(d)] was unable to move after a while due to the alcohol consumption and possibly being drugged.

[1(d)] was screaming for help as Xu digitally penetrated her. Security came to the room; however, Xu was able to talk them into leaving. [1(d)] messaged and called Ma asking for help. Ma went into the hotel and got security to return to the room with him. This time, [1(d)] left with Ma. Initially [1(d)] declined to have security call 9-1-1.

[1(d)] and a friend of hers, Jack, met Xu at Foundation night club. Xu did not waste much time to invite [1(d)] and Jack back to his hotel room. Case Investigation Report: 2018-249014

Certification for Determination of Probable Cause

That Anthony M. Belgarde is a Detective with the Seattle Police Department and has reviewed the investigation conducted in Seattle Police Department Case number 2018-249014. There is probable cause to believe that Xu, Gaoge 8-27-1996 committed the crime of RCW 9A.44.060 Rape 3/RCW 9A.40.040 Unlawful Imprisonment with Sexual Motivation within the City of Seattle, County of King, State of Washington. This belief is predicated on the following facts and circumstances.

Gaoge Xu 8-27-1996 used a mobile application, "WeChat" to invite V/Y.W. to be friends. WeChat is an online program that is structured like Facebook. This application allows you to have friends, show interest on a page or wall that you can design and use as an instant messaging service. Xu and Y.W. used this app to communicate for a short time before asking to meet for dinner and to go to a nightclub.

Xu and Y.W. were finally agree on a day and made the arrangement to meet at the Unicorn bar for dinner before going to Foundation nightclub. As Xu and Y.W. made the plans, a discussion of getting Y.W. a fake ID or passport arose. Xu encouraged Y.W. to obtain a friend's passport or to get a fake ID so that she would be able to gain access to the bar and nightclub. Foundation nightclub has security that ensures everyone entering is at least 21-years-old.

Y.W. and a friend, Ma, Wen J aka Jack arrived at Foundation Night Club around 2230 Hours on July 6th of 2018. Y.W. text Xu and asked where he was. Xu, Y.W. and Ma all met outside of Foundation and walked in. Xu ensured that Y.W. who is only 19-years-old got into the 21-year-old and over night club. Xu met other friends inside of Foundation and separated from Y.W. and Ma. After about 30 to 60 minutes, Xu asked Y.W. and Ma if they wanted to go back to his hotel room to drink. Y.W. wanted to see the W Hotel and Ma went as well. Ma drove all three to the W Hotel and followed Xu into the room with Y.W.

Once in the Hotel room, Xu offered both Ma and Y.W. a drink. Y.W. declined initially, however, was finally talked into drinking the alcohol. Xu provided a glass of what was believed by Y.W. to be Vodka. Xu who knew that Y.W. was not the drinking age, talked her into drinking the liquid contained in a 12 Oz glass. A shot of alcohol is approximately 1.5 Oz which shows that this glass is nearly 10 shots. Y.W. began to feel the effects of the alcohol and tried to leave. Xu talked Y.W. into staying when Ma left.

Xu wasted no time and began to force himself onto Y.W. Xu started to remove Y.W.'s tight one piece dress causing pain from digging his fingers/hands into her sides. Y.W. told Xu multiple times to stop and that she did not want to have sex with him. Xu continued and ignored Y.W.'s commands to stop. Y.W. attempted to leave the hotel room and Xu physically restrained her. Y.W. was not very strong nor did she have great balance due to the alcohol that Xu talked her into drinking and was easy to contain and keep in the room against her will.

Xu forced his finger(s) inside of Y.W.'s vagina and penetrated while trying to arouse her. Y.W. continued to tell Xu to stop.

Y.W. was able to use her cell phone and the WeChat app to contact Ma where she pleaded and begged for help. In messages received from Y.W. she is begging Ma to return to save her because she is being raped.

Ma returned to the room with Security and was able to go inside and save Y.W. Ma witnessed Y.W. putting her clothing back on and crying. Security asked if they should call the police, however, Y.W. was afraid due to her being underage and having consumed alcohol.

During a phone interview of Xu, he admitted to knowing Y.W. and meeting her at the locations listed. Xu admitted that Y.W. and Ma returned to his hotel, however, stated that nothing happened and they sat looking at the mountains. Xu asked why Y.W. waited so long to report the incident if it really happened. Xu did provide a picture that was sent to him where Y.W. was wearing tight clothing and was interpreted by Xu to be an attempt to turn him on. Reading the messages, Y.W. asked if the outfit was appropriate for the night club and Xu told her no.

Under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Washington, I certify that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief. Signed and dated by me this 7 day of August, at Seattle, Washington.

WeChat

WeChat (Chinese: 微信; pinyin: Wēixìn; literally: "micro-message") is a Chinese multi-purpose messaging, social media and mobile payment app developed by Tencent. It was first released in 2011, and by 2018 it was one of the world's largest standalone mobile apps by monthly active users,<sup>[9][10]</sup> with over 1 billion monthly active users (902 million daily active users).<sup>[1][11][2][12]</sup> Described as one of the world's most powerful apps by Forbes, it is also known as China's "app for everything" and a "super app" because of its wide range of functions and platforms.<sup>[14][15][16][17][18][19][20]</sup> In addition to China, it is also the most popular messaging app in Bhutan.<sup>[21]</sup>

History

WeChat began as a project at Tencent Guangzhou Research and Project center in October 2010.<sup>[23]</sup> The original version of the app was created by Zhang Xiaolong and named "Weixin" by Ma Huateng, Tencent CEO<sup>[24]</sup> and launched in 2011. The government has actively supported the development of the e-commerce market in China—for example in the 12th five-year plan (2011–2015).<sup>[25]</sup>

By 2012, when the number of users reached 100 million, Weixin was re-branded "WeChat" for the international market.<sup>[26]</sup>

WeChat had over 889 million monthly active users in 2016,<sup>[27][28][29]</sup> 90 percent of whom were in China.<sup>[30]</sup> For comparison, Facebook Messenger and WhatsApp (two other competitive international messaging services better known in the West) had about a billion Monthly Active Users in 2016 but did not offer most of the other services available on WeChat.<sup>[10][31]</sup> For example, in Q2 2017 WeChat's revenues from social media advertising were about US$0.9 billion (6 billion Yuan) compared to Facebook's total revenues of US$9.3 billion, 98 per cent of which were from social media advertising. WeChat's revenues from its value added services were US$5.5 billion.<sup>[32]</sup>

Features

Messaging

WeChat provides text messaging, hold-to-talk voice messaging, broadcast (one-to-many) messaging, video calls and conferencing, video games, sharing of photographs and videos, and location sharing.<sup>[33][34]</sup> It can exchange contacts with people nearby via Bluetooth, as well as providing various features for contacting people at random if desired (if people are open to it). It can also integrate with other social networking services such as Facebook and Tencent QQ.<sup>[35]</sup> Photographs may also be embellished with filters and captions, and an automatic translation service is available.

WeChat supports different instant messaging methods, including text message, voice message, walkie talkie and stickers. Users can send previously saved or live pictures and videos, namecards of other users, coupons, lucky money packages, or current GPS locations with friends either individually or in a group chat.

WeChat's character stickers, such as Tuzki, resemble and compete with those of LINE, a Japanese messaging application.<sup>[36]</sup>

Official accounts

WeChat users can register as an official account, which enables them to push feeds to subscribers, interact with subscribers and provide them with services. There are three types of official accounts: a service account, a subscription account and an enterprise account. Once users as individuals or organizations set up a type of account, they cannot change it to another type. By the end of 2014, the number of WeChat official accounts had reached 8 million.<sup>[37]</sup> Official accounts of organizations can apply to be verified (cost 300 RMB or about US$90). Official accounts can be used as a platform for services such as hospital pre-registrations,<sup>[38]</sup> visa renewal<sup>[39]</sup> or credit card service.<sup>[40]</sup>

Subscription accounts

WeChat subscription account is the basic type of account, allowing push content and notification updates for subscribed followers displayed in the subscription area. These accounts do not support WeChat payment service.<sup>[41][42]</sup>

Service accounts

The service account is for businesses or organizations to access more advanced features on WeChat. It offers more Application Programming Interfaces (APIs) than subscription accounts, and companies and organizations can create their own applications based on WeChat APIs. Users can see the information when viewing their messaging page. Service account support WeChat payment service.<sup>[42][43]</sup>

Moments

"Moments" is WeChat's brand name for its social feed of friends updates. Moments allows users to post images, post text, post comments, share music (associated with QQ Music or other web based music services), share articles and post "likes." Moments can be also linked to Facebook and Twitter accounts, and can automatically post Moments content directly to these two platforms.<sup>[36]</sup>

In 2017 WeChat had a policy of a maximum of two advertisements per day per Moments user.<sup>[31]</sup>

Privacy in WeChat works by groups of friends - only the friends from the user's contact are able to view their Moments' contents and comments. The friends of the user will only be able to see the likes and comments from other users only if they are in mutual friends group. For example, friends from high school are not able to see the comments and likes from friends from university. When users post their moments, they can separate their friends into a few groups, and they can decide whether this Moment can be seen by particular groups of people.<sup>[44]</sup> Contents posted can be set to "Private", and then only the user can view it.

WeChat Pay payment services

In China, users who have provided bank account information may use the app to pay bills, order goods and services, transfer money to other users, and pay in stores if the stores have WeChat payment option. Vetted third parties, known as "official accounts", offer these services by developing lightweight "apps within the app".<sup>[45]</sup> Users can link their Chinese bank accounts, as well as Visa, MasterCard and JCB.<sup>[46]</sup>

WeChat Pay is a digital wallet service incorporated into WeChat, which allows users to perform mobile payments and send money between contacts.<sup>[47]</sup> Every WeChat user has their own WeChat Payment account. Users can acquire a balance by linking their WeChat account to their debit card, or by receiving money from other users. Users who link their credit card can only make payments to vendors, and cannot use this to top up WeChat balance. WeChat Pay can be used for digital payments, as well as payments from participating vendors.<sup>[48]</sup> As of March 2016, WeChat Pay had over 300 million users.<sup>[49]</sup>

In 2014 for Chinese New Year, WeChat introduced a feature for distributing virtual red envelopes, modelled after the Chinese tradition of exchanging packets of money among friends and family members during holidays. The feature allows users to send money to contacts and groups as gifts. When sent to groups, the money is distributed equally, or in random shares ("Lucky Money"). The feature was launched through a promotion during China Central Television's heavily watched New Year's Gala, where viewers were instructed to shake their phones during the broadcast for a chance to win sponsored cash prizes from red envelopes. The red envelope feature significantly increased the adoption of WeChat Pay. A month after its launch, WeChat Pay's user base expanded from 30 million to 100 million users, and 20 million red envelopes were distributed during the New Year holiday. In 2016, 3.2 billion red envelopes were sent over the holiday period, and 409,000 alone were sent at midnight on Chinese New Year.<sup>[44]</sup>

In 2016, WeChat started a service charge if users transferred cash from their WeChat wallet to their debit cards. On March 1, WeChat payment stopped collecting fees for the transfer function. Starting from the same day, fees will be charged for withdrawals. Each user had a 1,000 Yuan (about US$150) free withdrawal limit. Further withdrawals of more than 1,000 Yuan were charged a 0.1 per cent fee with a minimum of 0.1 Yuan per withdrawal. Other payment functions including red envelopes and transfers were still free.<sup>[50]</sup>

WeChat Pay's main competitor in China and the market leader in online payments was Alibaba Group's Alipay. Alibaba company founder Jack Ma considered the red envelope feature to be a "Pearl Harbor moment", as it began to erode Alipay's historic dominance in the online payments industry in China, especially in peer-to-peer money transfer. The success prompted Alibaba to launch its own version of virtual red envelopes in its competing 1 (1) service. Other competitors, Baidu Wallet and Sina Weibo, also launched similar features.<sup>[44]</sup>

In 2017 Tencent reported that WeChat had overtaken Alibaba with 600 million active WeChat mobile payment users versus 450 million for Alibaba's Alipay.<sup>[51]</sup> However Alibaba had a 54 per cent share of the Chinese mobile online payments market in 2017 compared to WeChat's 37 per cent share.<sup>[51]</sup>

City Services

In 2015 WeChat launched the City Services feature<sup>[52]</sup> in 27 cities across China, including Beijing, Shanghai, Guangzhou and Shenzhen.<sup>[53]</sup> City Services included booking doctor appointments, paying electricity fees or traffic fines, and booking transportation.<sup>[54]</sup>

Heat Map

In 2015, WeChat offered a heat map feature that showed crowd density. Quartz columnist Josh Horwitz alleged the feature is being used by the Chinese government to track irregular assemblies of people to determine unlawful assembly.<sup>[55]</sup>

Enterprise WeChat

For work purposes, companies and business communication, a special version of WeChat called Enterprise WeChat (or Qiye Weixin) was launched in 2016. The app was meant to help employees separate work from private life.<sup>[56]</sup> In addition to the usual chat features, the program let companies and their employees keep track of annual leave days and expenses that need to be reimbursed, employees could ask for time off or clock in to show they were at work.<sup>[56][57][58][59]</sup>

WeChat Mini Program

In 2017, WeChat launched a feature called "Mini Programs".<sup>[60]</sup> Business owners can create mini apps in the WeChat system, implemented using Javascript plus a proprietary API.<sup>[61]</sup> Users may install these inside the WeChat app. In January 2018, WeChat announced a record of 580,000 mini-programs.<sup>[62][63]</sup> With one Mini Program, consumers could scan the Quick Response code using their mobile phone at a supermarket counter and pay the bill through the user's WeChat mobile wallet.<sup>[65]</sup> WeChat Games have received huge popularity, with its "Jump Jump" game attracting 400 million players in less than 3 days and attaining 100 million daily active users in just two weeks after its launch, as of January 2018.<sup>[64][65][66]</sup>

Friend seek

WeChat allowed people to add friends by a variety of methods, including searching by username or phone number, adding from phone or email contacts, playing a

"message in a bottle" game, or viewing nearby people who are also using the same service. In 2015 WeChat added a "friend radar" function.<sup>[67]</sup>

WeChat Index

In March 2017, Tencent released WeChat Index. By inserting a search term in the WeChat Index page, users could check the popularity of this term in past 7, 30, or 90 days.<sup>[68]</sup> The data were mined from data in official WeChat accounts and metrics such as social sharing, likes and reads were used in the evaluation.

News Feed and Search

In May 2017 Tencent started news feed and search functions for its WeChat app. The Financial Times reported this was a "direct challenge to Chinese search engine Baidu".<sup>[69]</sup>

WeChat Out

In January 2016, Tencent launched WeChat Out, a VOIP service allowing users to call mobile phones and landlines around the world. The feature allowed purchasing credit within the app using a credit card. WeChat Out was originally only available in the United States, India, and Hong Kong, but later coverage was expanded to Thailand, Macau, Laos, and Italy.<sup>[70][71]</sup>

Services under development in 2017

In 2017, WeChat was reported to be developing an augmented reality (AR) platform as part of its service offering. Its artificial intelligence team was working on a 3D rendering engine to create realistic appearance of detailed objects in smartphone-based AR apps. They were also developing a simultaneous localization and mapping technology, which would help calculate the position of virtual objects relative to their environment, enabling AR interactions without the need for markers, such as Quick Response codes or special images.<sup>[72]</sup>

Digital marketing

Marketing history

WeChat's advertising significantly affected China's society, and helped drive digital marketing strategies. Many campaigns were launched to attract new users and retain existing ones since 2011. In 2015, one campaign reviewed the user's life over the past year and was timed to coincide with the fourth WeChat anniversary. Users could trace their history such as the first friend on WeChat or how many "Likes" they received that year. The campaign created value with the digital marketing, by relating products and customers together.<sup>[73]</sup> Users appreciated this campaign because it witnessed their growth along happiness and sadness. In another major campaign in 2016, users could upload a paid photo on "Moments" and only someone willing to pay for it could see the photo and comment on it. The photos were taken down each night.<sup>[74]</sup>

WeChat has been used by Chinese companies as part of a social media digital marketing strategy, to share information and boost their brands.<sup>[75]</sup>

WeChat paid advertising

Tencent tested paid advertising on 2015, January.<sup>[76]</sup> Companies were required to have a Chinese business license and Chinese bank account in order to use the advertising services.<sup>[77]</sup>

Types of advertising on WeChat

WeChat Moments ads

These are advertisements that are displayed in user's Moments. WeChat Moments Ads can include a brand name, profile, short description, a maximum of 6 pictures (or a 6- to 15-second short video), and a link to a webpage hosted on Tencent's server. Moments ads are like regular Moments post but with a sponsored tag. Users can interact with the ads: they can like and comment on the post. The price of WeChat Moment advertisement depends on where and when this ad will be displayed. Usually, the minimum budget for an ad is 50,000 RMB (about US$ 7,500).<sup>[78]</sup>

Digital marketing in China

WeChat is enabling conversational commerce in China, that is, e-commerce via chat/messaging, in addition to the social media-style posting capabilities, mini-Web browser and mini-programs allowing companies to provide a complete e-commerce offering entirely within the WeChat app.

High service and low cost

Compared with Facebook and other social media, WeChat allowed businesses to open an account and gain a following on the platform for free.<sup>[74]</sup> Businesses could send messages to the followers and get frequently linked with them.

Huge consumer base

WeChat had a large number and wide range of users with differing ages. Business that put advertisements on WeChat had a wide range of potential customers.<sup>[73]</sup>

Content marketing

Connecting with WeChat's huge customer base could be the determining factor to turn users from prospect into customers by leaving a lasting impression about brands and by sending content to educate the users.<sup>[79][80]</sup>

Key Opinion Leaders

Many Key Opinion Leaders (KOL, people who were influential and had established significant followings on social media) were active on WeChat.<sup>[81]</sup> KOLs have been particularly effective for promoting branding for Chinese companies who have recruited and developed relationships with KOLs as the latter can help build and e-reputation and share the information about the products. For example, in 2016 L'Oréal China cooperated with Papi Jiang—a popular KOL and blogger who had over 10 million followers—to promote their products. Over one million people watched her first video promoting L'Oréal's beauty brand MG.<sup>[82][83]</sup>

Hongbaos

This feature is based on the tradition of China giving red envelopes (usually cash) for special occasions and festivals. A number of Chinese companies use this feature to randomly select one or more followers to send them bonuses through the WeChat lucky dip system. This amount will be stored in the follower's WeChat wallet and can be transferred to the bank. This is used by the company as a reward for following and sharing posts.<sup>[43]</sup>

Micro Stores

Enterprises with WeChat service accounts can open micro stores in the app.Brands can start developing these tailor-made micro-stores, or they can host their own website in the established electronic platform provided by WeChat. Users can view these micro stores on WeChat and use WeChat payment service to complete the payment in a few seconds.

Geo-localized marketing services

Geo-location service is one of the functions of WeChat for digital marketing. WeChat will promote associated ads based on the user's location and preferences.One of the most crucial areas in this regard is retail, where consumers can get limited version discounts in retail stores in different regions. WeChat offers a revolutionary 'bridge' for linking digital marketing and physical activities (such as retail, sells promotion).<sup>[84]</sup>

QR Code

QR code marketing has been widespread in China. Setting up a QR code on physical materials (such as poster) can increase traffic, and it can also be cross-promoted across different social media and forums. WeChat has used its strengths to develop a systematic marketing platform around QR code. Users can scan QR codes to add each other as friends, or can used to link users to the official product teams for certain brands. WeChat QR code provides a way for the offline physical product to link to the digital market. In China, digital marketing around QR code is an environmental feature of some international cities, such as Guangzhou, Shanghai and Beijing.<sup>[84]</sup>

WeChat Business

WeChat Business (Chinese name: 微商) is one of the latest mobile social network business model after e-commerce, which utilize business relationship and friendship to maintain customer relationship.<sup>[85]</sup> Depending on the instant messages, free video calls, group chats, information sharing on WeChat Moments and almost 1 billion users, WeChat attracts many companies and self-employed person selling their products on WeChat.<sup>[86]</sup> Comparing with the traditional E-business like JD.com and Alibaba, WeChat Business has large range of influence and profits with less input and lower threshold, which attracts loads of people to join in WeChat business.<sup>[87]</sup>

WeChat Business marketing mode*B2C Mode

This is the main profit modes of WeChat Business. The first one is to launch advertisements and provide service through WeChat Official Account, which is a B2C mode. This mode has been used by many hospitals, banks, fashion brands, internet companies and personal blogs because the Official Account can access to online payment, location sharing, voice messages, mini-games and so on. It is like a 'mini App', so the company have to hire specific staff to manage the account. By 2015, there are more than 100 million WeChat Official Accounts in this platform.<sup>[88]</sup>

WeChat salesperson in this mode is to agent and promote products by individual, which belongs to C2C mode. In this mode, individual sellers always post relevant photos and messages of their agent products on the WeChat Moments or WeChat groups and sell products to their WeChat friends. Besides, they develop friendship with their customers by sending messages in festival or write comments under their updates on WeChat moments to increase their trust. Also, keep communicating with the regular customers rise the 'WOF'(word-of-mouth) communications, which influences decisions making. Some of the WeChat businessman already have an online shop in Taobao, but use WeChat to maintain existing customers.<sup>[90]</sup>

Existing problems

As more and more people have joined WeChat Business, it has brought many problems. For example, some sellers have begun to sell fake luxury goods such as bags, clothes, clothes and watches. Some of them have special channels to obtain high-quality fake luxury products and sell them at a low price. Moreover, some sellers have even disguised themselves as international flight attendants or overseas students to post fake stylish photos on WeChat Moments. They then claim that they can provide overseas purchasing services but sell fake luxury goods at the same price as the true one.<sup>[90]</sup> Another hot product selling on WeChat is facial masks. Its marketing mode is like that of Amway but most goods are unbranded products which came from illegal factories making excess hormones with could have serious effects customer's health.<sup>[91]</sup> However, it is difficult for customers to defend their rights because a large number of sellers' identities are uncertified. Additionally, the lack of any supervision mechanism in WeChat business also provides chances for criminals to continue this illegal behavior.<sup>[92][93]</sup>

Security concerns

WeChat operates from China under Chinese law, which includes strong censorship provisions and interception protocols.<sup>[94]</sup> WeChat contains the ability to access the text messages and contact books of its users and users' locations through the GPS feature.<sup>[94]</sup>

Countries and regions such as India,<sup>[94][95][96]</sup> Australia<sup>[97]</sup> the United States,<sup>[98]</sup> China and Taiwan all fear that the app poses a threat to national or regional security for various reasons.<sup>[94][99]</sup> In June 2013, the Indian Intelligence Bureau flagged WeChat for security concerns. India has debated whether or not they should ban WeChat for its possibility in collecting too much personal information and data from its users.<sup>[95][100][101]</sup> In Taiwan, legislators were concerned that the potential exposure of private communications was a threat to regional security.

In 2016 Tencent was awarded a score of zero out of 100 in an Amnesty International report ranking technology companies on the way they implement encryption to protect the human rights of their users.<sup>[102]</sup> The report placed Tencent last out of a total of 11 companies, including Facebook, Apple, and Google, for the lack of privacy protections built into WeChat and QQ. The report found that Tencent did not make use of end-to-end encryption, which is a system that allows only the communicating users to read the messages.<sup>[103]</sup> It also found that Tencent did not recognize online threats to human rights, did not disclose government requests for data, and did not publish specific data about its use of encryption.<sup>[104][105]</sup>

A September 2017 update to the platform's privacy policy detailed that log data collected by WeChat included search terms, profiles visited, and content that had been viewed within the app. Additionally, metadata related to the communications between WeChat users—including call times, duration, and location information—was also collected. This information, which was used by Tencent for targeted advertising and marketing purposes, might be disclosed to representatives of the Chinese government.<sup>[106][107]</sup>

1. To comply with applicable law or regulations.
2. To comply with a court order, subpoena, or other legal process.
3. In response to a request by a government authority, law enforcement agency, or similar body.

Privacy issues

Users in China also have expressed concern for the privacy issues of the app. Human rights activist Hu Jia was jailed for three years for sedition. He speculated that the officials of the Internal Security Bureau of the Ministry of Public Security (known as guobao) listened to his voicemail messages that were directed to his friends, repeating the words displayed within the voice mail messages to Hu Jia. Chinese authorities have further accused the WeChat app of threatening individual safety. China Central Television (short CCTV), a state run broadcaster, featured a piece in which WeChat was described as an app that helped criminals due to its location-reporting features. CCTV gave an example of such accusations through reporting the murder of a single woman who, after he attempted to rob her, was murdered by a man she met on WeChat. The location-reporting feature, according to reports, was the reason for the man knowing the victim's whereabouts. Authorities within China have linked WeChat to numerous crimes. The city of Hangzhou, for example, reported over twenty crimes related to WeChat in the span of three months.<sup>[94][108]</sup>

Supporters of the app have argued that WeChat was safe overall. Martin Johnson, a founder of the anti-censorship in China site GreatFire.org, stated that WeChat was less of a potential threat than the app Weibo which was modeled on WeChat's focus on messaging between well-known acquaintances and social groups. Doug Young, a Shanghai-based author of the Party Line, noted that while the app might practice self-censorship within China, it would not, however, practice the same self-censorship outside China. Doing so, according to Young, would affect the app's image and possibly hamper its global expansion.<sup>[109]</sup>

XcodeGhost malware

In 2015, Apple published a list of the top 25 most popular apps infected with the XcodeGhost malware, confirming earlier reports that version 6.2.5 of WeChat for iOS was infected with it.<sup>[110][111][112]</sup> The malware originated in a counterfeit version of Xcode (dubbed "XcodeGhost"), Apple's software development tools, and made its way into the compiled app through a modified framework.<sup>[113]</sup> Despite Apple's review process, WeChat and other infected apps were approved and distributed through the App Store. Even though some sources claimed that the malware was capable of prompting the user for their account credentials, opening

URLs and reading the device's clipboard.<sup>[114]</sup> Apple responded that the malware was not capable of doing "anything malicious" or transmitting any personally identifiable information beyond "apps and general system information" and that it had no information that suggested that this had happened.<sup>[110]</sup> Some commentators considered this to be the largest security breach in the App Store's history.<sup>[113]</sup>

Platforms

WeChat's mobile phone app works on Android, iPhone, BlackBerry, Windows Phone, and Symbian phones. Web-based OS X<sup>[115]</sup> and Windows<sup>[116]</sup> clients also exist. This however requires the user to have the app installed on a supported mobile phone for authentication, and neither message roaming nor 'Moments' are provided.<sup>[117]</sup>

The company also provides WeChat for Web, a web-based client with messaging and file transfer capabilities. Other functions cannot be used on it, such as the detection of nearby people, or interacting with Moments or Official Accounts. To use the Web-based client, it is necessary to first scan a QR code using the phone app. This means it is not possible to get onto the WeChat network if you do not possess a suitable smartphone with the app installed.<sup>[118]</sup>

WeChat could be accessed on Windows using BlueStacks until December 2014.<sup>[119][120]</sup> Beginning then, WeChat blocks Android emulators and accounts that have signed in from emulators may be frozen.<sup>[121]</sup>

There have been some reported issues with the Web client.<sup>[122]</sup> Specifically when using English, some users have experienced autocorrect, autocomplete, auto-capitalization, and auto-delete behavior as they type messages and even after the message was sent. For example, "gonna" was autocorrected to "go", the E's were auto-deleted in "need", "wechat" was auto-capitalized to "Wechat" but not "WeChat", and after the message was sent, "don't" got auto-corrected to "do not". However, the auto-corrected word(s) after the message was sent appeared on the phone app as the user had originally typed it ("don't" was seen on the phone app whereas "do not" was seen on the Web client). Users could translate a foreign language during a conversation and the words were posted on Moments.<sup>[123]</sup>

Collaborations

In 2014 Burberry, partnered with WeChat to create its own WeChat apps around its fall 2014 runway show, giving users live streams from the shows.<sup>[124]</sup> Another brand, Michael Kors used WeChat to give live updates from their runway show, and later to run a photo contest "Chic Together WeChat campaign".<sup>[125]</sup> Several International brands used WeChat as a marketing tool in China but made limited use of other WeChat features such as customer service.<sup>[126]</sup>

In 2014, British Airways decided to cooperate with WeChat and use WeChat's potential in the Chinese electronic market to develop a plan to better connect to Chinese consumers. During the Spring Festival of 2014, the airline decided to attract more followers on the WeChat electronic platform by providing "gifts" to customers. They sent a red envelope directly to the first followers' home in 2014. The envelope contained the CEO's greeting and a $50 coupon. In addition, British Airways randomly selected 3 followers among these people to obtain roundtrip flights between China and London. This marketing campaign eventually succeeded in attracting some 10,000 followers.<sup>[127]</sup>

In 2015 WeChat collaborated with Cogobuy's subsidiary IngDan Ltd<sup>[128]</sup> for the "WeChat Hardware Competition". Cogobuy and WeChat established an "Internet of Things" (IoT) ecosystem partnership with over one million followers the same year.<sup>[129]</sup> By forming a closed loop ecosystem, Cogobuy served each entrepreneur and innovator, even the entire IoT industry. IngDan Ltd provided the consolidated support with supply chain services and resource connectivity to assist hardware innovators to produce their products, as well as the platform to promote their products to WeChat followers through the collaboration.<sup>[130]</sup>

In 2015, WeChat partnered with eBay to together bring the eBay inventory onto WeChat store for buyers in China using Chinese Yuan. It was an extension of eBay's Customer-to-Customer marketing but the experience was through WeChat's application using Tenpay/Weixin Pay and inventory was surfaced as daily deals.

In 2016 WeChat partnered with 60 Italian (WeChat had an office in Milan) companies who were able to sell their products and services on the Chinese market without having to get a licence to operate a business in China.<sup>[131]</sup> WeChat partnered with an Italian company Digital Retex<sup>[132]</sup> to help companies set up their brands on the WeChat platform. In 2017, Andrea Ghizzoni, European director of Tencent, said that 95 per cent of global luxury brands used WeChat.<sup>[133]</sup>

In 2017 WeChat partnered with the Singapore marketing agency theAsianIR to sell their platform's features to the international market. WeChat and theAsianIR<sup>[133]</sup> helped companies set up their brands on the WeChat platform using a proprietary viral word-of-mouth marketing system, which recruited influencers and agents at no charge to the companies.

Censorship

Global censorship

Starting in 2013 reports arose that Chinese language searches even outside China were being keyword filtered and then blocked.<sup>[134][135]</sup> This occurred both on incoming traffic to China from foreign countries but also exclusively between foreign parties (The service had already censored its communications within China). In the international example of blocking, a message was displayed on users' screens: "The message "南方周末" your message contains restricted words. Please check it again." These are the simplified Chinese characters for a Guangzhou-based paper called Southern Weekly (or, alternatively, Southern Weekend). The next day Tencent released a statement addressing the issue saying "A small number of WeChat international users were not able to send certain messages due to a technical glitch this Thursday. Immediate actions have been taken to rectify it. We apologize for any inconvenience it has caused to our users. We will continue to improve the product features and technological support to provide a better user experience." WeChat planned to build two different platforms to avoid this problem in the future; one for the Chinese mainland and one for the rest of the world. The problem existed because WeChat's servers were all located in China and thus subjected to its censorship rules.<sup>[130][137][138]</sup>

Two censorship systems

In 2016, the Citizen Lab published a report saying that WeChat was using different censorship policies in mainland China and other areas. They found that:<sup>[139]</sup>

1. Keyword filtering was only enabled for users who registered via phone numbers from mainland China;
2. Users did not get notices any more when messages are blocked;
3. Filtering was more strict on group chat;
4. Keywords were not static. Some newfound censored keywords were in response to current news events;
5. The Internal browser in WeChat blocked Chinese accounts from accessing some websites such as gambling, Falun Gong and critical reports on China. International users were not blocked except accessing some gambling and pornography websites.

Restricting sharing websites in "Moments"

In 2014, WeChat announced that according to "related regulations", domains of the web pages that want to get shared in WeChat Moments need to get an Internet Content Provider (ICP) licence by Dec 31, 2014 to avoid being restricted by WeChat.<sup>[140]</sup>

Iran

In September 2013 WeChat was blocked in Iran. Authorities cited WeChat Nearby (Friend Radar) and the spread of pornographic content as the reason of censorship.

The Committee for Determining Instances of Criminal Content (a working group under the supervision of the attorney general) website FAQ says:<sup>[141][142]</sup>

Because WeChat collects phone data and monitors member activity and because app developers are outside of the country and not cooperating, this software has been blocked, so you can use domestic applications for cheap voice calls, video calls and messaging.

On January 4, 2018, WeChat was unblocked in Iran.<sup>[143][144]</sup>

* Schedule I and II drugs have a high potential for misuse. They require greater storage security and have a quota on manufacturing, among other restrictions. Schedule I drugs are available for research only and have no approved medical use; Schedule II drugs are available only by prescription (unrefillable) and require a form for ordering. Schedule III and IV drugs are available by prescription, may have five refills in 6 months, and may be ordered orally. Some Schedule V drugs are available over the counter.

** Some of the health risks are directly related to the route of drug administration. For example, injection drug use can increase the risk of infection through needle contamination with staphylococci, HIV, hepatitis and other organisms.

*** Associated with sexual assaults.

13 hidden signs of stress

Regenerative medicine: replacing brain cells lost from stroke

The crippling damage drugs cause to the brain has remained unseen - until recently. For the first time scans have shown exactly how these substances mutilate our minds - while psychiatrists deal with the fall-out.

From the height of ecstasy to the depths of hell. As quick as a flash. Then brain damage for the rest of your life. This is what some street drugs can do to you.

And even after you've stopped, these drugs may have scorched the delicate tissue of your brain and changed you into a monster, capable of the most horrifying acts of violence. Or you might be left in a dark well of depression, from which nothing can save you.

It doesn't matter which drug you try, even if it's only once - you have to know you're playing with fire. The stuff you're smoking, sniffing or shooting up is going to hit your brain with the force of a lightning bolt.

It's not the moral custodians, teachers and religious ministers who say so. It's hardened policemen, chemical scientists and psychiatrists who have witnessed the effects of these drugs with bewilderment.

Forget everything you thought you knew about drugs. Nothing can prepare you for the havoc caused by charlie and crystal, hot ice, china white and liquid ecstasy.

And it's not happening somewhere else; it's happening here in our neighbourhoods, schools and universities, to normal teenagers who "just wanna have fun" and adults who should know better.

It makes the drugged-hippie era look like a Sunday school picnic. Modern drugs are so much more powerful, so much more intense, taking you to ecstatic peaks of euphoria and energy - then dropping you into the depths of despair. No wonder it's called a crash.

Until recently no one knew the extent of the devastation caused in your brain by this chemical violence. But we're beginning to find out. And it's not a pretty sight.

- Midwives are holding babies born with their intestines outside their bodies.
- Policemen are dealing with the victims of merciless crimes.
- Neurologists, with the help of the latest technology, are assessing the extent of the brain damage caused by these drugs.

This, however, is relatively harmless compared to the drug called yellow honey, says superintendent Casper Venter of the SAPS forensic laboratories.

Yellow honey is a deadly form of marijuana that is seven times stronger than normal dagga and can cause a brain meltdown. This drug surfaced in Los Angeles a number of years ago. The SAPS Narcotics Bureau predicted that once it gained a foothold in South Africa it would make the tik problem look like child's play.

GENERAL OFFENSE HARDCOPY
PUBLIC DISCLOSURE RELEASE COPY
(1199-3 SEXOFF-INDECENT LIBERTIES)

Many local drugs - especially when they're manufactured in someone's loo, kitchen or warehouse - have the added danger that you have no idea what they really contain. Street drugs are often cut with highly addictive heroin to ensure you become physically dependent. On top of that, street drugs can be sold in hugely concentrated form; sometimes they are up to 1 500 times more powerful than the dose the human body can safely handle. It's like pouring jet fuel into an old jalopy. Street drugs may also contain harmful impurities. For example, a chemical in mandrax tablets can cause lung cancer.

In the wake of drug use, one can follow the crimes associated with it. Violent crime in the Western Cape has increased enormously and is attributed to the dramatic rise in the use of tik. We're seeing more and more frequently that when people are murdered, they're not stabbed or shot once or twice, but as many as 60 times.

"Tik changes the brain chemistry and numbs the moral reaction of users. Killing or raping someone is nothing to them," says Venter.

The nine most common street drugs

The substances discussed here are illegal and are listed in the South African Drugs and Drug Trafficking Act, Act 140/92. The most common street drugs in South Africa are classified according to their effect on the brain. There are three main classes: uppers (stimulants), downers (depressants) and hallucinogens (which cause you to see strange things).

Uppers (stimulants)

Uppers include cocaine, crack, Ecstasy, tik, crystal meth or methamphetamine, amphetamines, ephedrine and khat. These substances stimulate the brain and increase the heart rate. Young people use them to feel stronger, more energetic and more decisive. Typical signs of stimulant use are a reduced appetite, high energy levels, insomnia, dilated pupils, talkativeness, irritability, anxiety, increased excitability and hyperactivity, abrupt mood changes, impatience and nervousness.

1. Cocaine

Street names: blow, charlie, coke

This mind-altering drug, extracted from the coca bush in Peru, Bolivia and other mountainous countries, was once the glamour drug of the rich and famous but now more and more children are experimenting with it.

The heaven:

A feeling of exhilaration, euphoria, hyperactivity, self-confidence, heightened awareness and boundless energy. The rush occurs five to 10 minutes after snorting cocaine.

The hell:

Some users will experience headaches, tremors, apprehension and insomnia after a single dose. Larger doses may lead to teeth grinding and compulsive acts such as scratching and finger tapping. Users may hear voices and suffer from extreme paranoia, extreme anxiety, irrational ideas and aggression. An overdose can result in a seizure, panic attack, cardiac arrest, stroke, difficulty breathing and death.

Effects on the body:

Your pulse rate increases, your blood pressure rises and your pupils dilate. After long-term use, you'll look emaciated, your sex drive will decrease, your nose will always be running and you'll get frequent colds. Cocaine is psychologically and physically addictive. Once the high wears off, addicts are left craving more stimulation.

Effects on the brain:

Cocaine interferes with the natural secretion of dopamine and serotonin, two of the brain's chemical messengers that transmit feel-good sensations. As a result, these neurotransmitters accumulate and trigger the trademark "high".

The scary fact is cocaine eventually depletes the level of neurotransmitters to such an extent that depression, apathy, fatigue, anxiety and suicidal depression can set in and may last for months.

If the depletion is total and permanent, even the best antidepressants will be futile and the user may never be able to escape from the darkest depression. Some also develop Parkinson's disease which leaves them with a tremor at an early age.

2. Crack

Street names: rocks, freebase

Crack is a cheap and deadly form of cocaine, turned into smokeable "rocks" with the use of additives. Crack is cocaine intensified and kicking a crack habit is three times as difficult.

The heaven:

Feelings of wellbeing, mental exhilaration and euphoria. The high is intense but lasts little over 10 minutes.

GENERAL OFFENSE HARDCOPY
PUBLIC DISCLOSURE RELEASE COPY
(1199-3 SEXOFF-INDECENT LIBERTIES)*The hell:

The euphoric feeling is quickly followed by devastating depression equal in intensity, creating the need to smoke again and again. This cycle of highs and lows causes an addiction that takes hold faster than with any other drug.

Effects on the body:

The same as for cocaine but intensified. Users may see snowflights or halos. Their heart rate may become irregular, increasing the risk of a heart attack.

Effects on the brain:

Because it's smoked it delivers a high dose of the drug to the brain in less than 10 seconds - with a potency five to 10 times greater than snorted cocaine. The assault on the brain is quicker and more profound. It alters the biochemical state of the brain by changing the dopamine and serotonin receptors and depleting the stores of these two feel-good neurotransmitters. This damage can be permanent, leading to severe paranoia, lasting suicidal depression or murderous rage.

3. Ice*(Crystal methamphetamine)

Street names: crystals, crystal, meth, rock, candy, batu, glass, LA glass, super ice, hot ice, LA crystal, Hawaiian salt
This newer and deadlier form of crystallised methamphetamine is nearly 100 per cent pure methamphetamine. Odourless and smoked in glass pipes, it is more lethal than crack and cocaine, and seemingly more addictive.

The heaven:

Within seconds smokers feel an intense wave of physical and mental exhilaration. The effects may last from four to 14 hours.

The hell:

Intense feelings of anxiety, depression, sleeplessness and fatigue, and eventually psychosis. Toxic psychosis similar to paranoid schizophrenia can also result from heavy, short- or long-term use.

Effects on the body:

Users need ever-heavier doses to reach the same high. Prolonged use damages the lungs, liver and kidneys.

Effects on the brain:

Brain damage is similar to tik, but to a greater degree.

4. Ecstasy*Street names: XTC, e, Adam, MDMA

Ecstasy is a rave or party drug and is often taken to enable the user to dance through the night. It's knocked together like tik. Why does it have such a cool-sounding name? Because methylenedioxymethamphetamine (MDMA) is somewhat of a tongue-twister.

The heaven:

There's an enhanced sense of pleasure, increased self-confidence and loads of energy, peacefulness, acceptance and empathy. The high lasts between four and six hours.

The hell:

Users may develop blurred vision, sweat a lot, clench their teeth or bite the inside of their cheeks and suffer seizures, nausea and vomiting. Used regularly for a long time or in large doses it can make you extremely depressed and paranoid and cause panic attacks.

Effects on the body:

Even in small doses Ecstasy can be dangerous to people with heart disease and asthma. Large doses can lead to overheating of the body and brain, dehydration, water retention, stroke and heart attack.

Effects on the brain:

Ecstasy affects your brain by increasing the release and activity of at least three neurotransmitters (serotonin, dopamine and norepinephrine), and when it depletes these stores, especially the serotonin stores, it can lead to chronic depression. Psychiatrists say they are experiencing an increase in psychotic episodes and permanent brain damage among Ecstasy users.

Danger: Many knocked-together street drugs are sold as heroin or cocaine substitutes to naive or desperate users under the misleading name of designer drugs. Chances of an overdose are high because you don't know what you're buying.

5. Methamphetamine

Street names: tik, tik-tik, crystal, meth, crystal meth, crank, uppers, speed

GENERAL OFFENSE HARDCOPY
PUBLIC DISCLOSURE RELEASE COPY
(1199-3 SEXOFF-INDECENT LIBERTIES)

Tik is also a knocked-together drug and is sold in the form of powders, pills and capsules that are sniffed, smoked or injected. It can be manufactured at home from medicines that are available over the counter.

The heaven:

Like cocaine and crack, tik leads to increased alertness, energy and self-confidence, a heightened sense of sexuality and euphoria.

The hell:

Aggression, violence, psychotic behaviour, memory loss and heart and brain damage. Long-term users face insomnia, psychotic episodes, paranoia, hallucinations and collapse.

Effects on the body:

Trembling hands, increased heart rate and sweating. An overdose can result in stroke and heart failure. Long-term use leads to an increased risk of hepatitis C and HIV as the drug is injected and often prompts risky sexual behaviour.

Effects on the brain:

Tik acts as a stimulant, similar to cocaine - but stays in the system for longer. The exhaustion of the brain's dopamine supply is extremely worrying. A tik addict loses up to half his dopamine supply every two years, compared with the 5-10% every 10 years for the average person. Dopamine helps to regulate coordinated movement and as soon as its levels drop by 15%, the victim develops Parkinson's disease, characterised by head and hand tremors.

In the Western Cape there are already young tik users who have Parkinson's. Psychiatrists are also worried about the increase in cases of schizophrenia and psychosis among tik users. It seems as if tik damages the human brain to such an extent that users start acting like extremely aggressive psychopaths. This is reflected by the Narcotics Bureau's observation that murders and rapes committed by tik abusers are becoming a lot more senseless and aggressive. Babies born to moms who used tik during pregnancy have a greater risk of developing Parkinson's disease in their childhood years. Much worse: the birth of babies with intestines outside their tiny bodies is a regular occurrence at some Cape Peninsula hospitals.

Downers (depressants)

These suppress or delay certain brain functions. Depending on which part of the brain is being suppressed, they are divided into sub-groups: either narcotic or tranquillising substances such as heroin or substances that make you sleepy such as mandrax.

6. Heroin

Street names: smack, mud, china white, brown, Mexican brown, brown sugar, gear, H, horse, junk

Heroin is produced from the resin of the opium poppy and is the most dangerous and addictive narcotic. Pure heroin is a white, odourless crystalline-like powder with a bitter taste. The browner the colour, the more impurities it contains. It is often diluted with starch, sugars such as glucose, powdered milk, baby powder, washing powder, strychnine or other poisons before being sold. It is smoked, snorted or injected.

The heaven:

A profound sense of warmth and wellbeing envelops the user and blocks feelings of pain and insecurity.

The hell

Within six to eight hours symptoms such as nausea, vomiting, chills, excessive sweating and muscle and bone pain may follow. The real hell starts with the withdrawal symptoms which can set in within two days after the last fix.

Effects on the body:

First it leads to suppression of pain, drowsiness, heaviness of the limbs, shallow breathing, a weak pulse, dry mouth and pinpoint pupils. Long-term use causes liver damage, poisoning as a result of additives, bacterial infections, abscesses, arthritis and infection of the heart lining and valves. High dosages can result in a seizure, coma and death. Babies born to mothers who abuse heroin during their pregnancy may be born addicted.

Effects on the brain:

Heroin is quickly changed to morphine in the brain, which acts on certain receptors to give that feeling of utter bliss. But the brain reacts by creating fewer of its own feel-good endorphins. Heroin destroys the chemical balance in the brain to such an extent that the user starts to experience pain in the absence of any injuries. Rapid mood changes and confusion are the result of the chemical changes in the brain.

7. Mandrax

Street names: whites, buttons

South Africa has the highest per capita mandrax abuse in the world. Mandrax (methaqualone) tablets are usually powdered and smoked with a mixture of cannabis or tobacco in a bottleneck pipe called a "white pipe" or "witwyf".

GENERAL OFFENSE HARDCOPY
PUBLIC DISCLOSURE RELEASE COPY
(1199-3 SEXOFF-INDECENT LIBERTIES)*The heaven:

You feel totally laid back, at peace and without a care in the world. You're giving the world the proverbial finger.

The hell:

Take too much of it and you'll feel nauseous, lose consciousness or fall into a stupor.

Effects on the body:

Mandrax users can develop physical and psychological dependence on the drug, constantly craving its effects, but needing more and more to get the desired high.

Effects on the brain:

Mandrax use alters the brain chemicals, suppressing brain function so that the user becomes like a zombie.

Hallucinogens

These psychedelic drugs distort reality, plunging the user into a dream world where everything is distorted and colours become audible and sounds visible. Taken in large quantities they scramble your brain, resulting in delusions and hallucinations. They also rev up the brain, causing mood swings that can vary from euphoria to the deepest depression or violence. Sometimes the loss of self and depression can be so severe that suicide may happen.

8. Cannabis

Street names: dagga, weed, marijuana, dope, grass, pot, ganja, hash, hashish

In South Africa cannabis is grown in rural areas and sold as a means to put food on the table. Cannabis contains more than 426 known chemicals, including the mind-altering substances known as THC's (tetrahydrocannabinols).

The heaven:

You feel euphoric and relaxed.

The hell

Panic attacks, hallucinations, flashbacks and memory loss.

Effects on the body:

It causes frequent sinusitis and bronchitis and may cause infertility in men and women. Lung cancer is a real risk. It may harm an unborn baby, leading to miscarriage, stillbirth or early death. Foetal marijuana syndrome - characterised by lower birth weight and developmental abnormalities - is five times more common than foetal alcohol syndrome.

Effects on the brain:

THC changes the brain chemistry that governs feelings, memory, the senses and co-ordinated movement.

9. LSD

(Lysergic acid diethylamide)

Street names: acid, blotter acid, microdot, white lightning

LSD is an odourless and colourless drug available in two forms: paper stamps impregnated with LSD or micro-tablets ("microdots") containing LSD in very low concentrations per tablet.

The heaven:

It seems as though you have your senses crossed, giving you the feeling of hearing colours and seeing sounds. Taken in large enough doses, LSD produces delusions and visual hallucinations.

The hell:

Mental disorders such as schizophrenia and severe depression.

Effects on the body:

Increased heart rate, increased blood pressure, numbness and weakness.

LSD affects a large number of chemicals in the brain, including the neurotransmitters dopamine and serotonin. The drug may also increase the levels of a substance called glutamate in very specific parts of the brain, over-stimulating the brain cells and causing an "electric storm". Each electric storm causes hallucinations, and can lead to permanent changes.

Effects on the brain:*Spying on your brain

New technology has allowed doctors to pinpoint the areas of the brain most affected by drug abuse. One method is the brain Spect (single photon emission computed tomography) which uses gamma rays to construct two- or three-dimensional images of active brain regions.

With a brain Spect doctors can look at the damage done by impaired blood flow caused by various drugs, explains Dr Pieter Botha of the department of radiology at Tygerberg Hospital in Cape Town. Drugs such as alcohol, cocaine or marijuana impair the effectiveness of blood vessels in the brain, constricting blood flow to certain areas. On scans these affected areas show up as "holes" in the brain.

Location of Incident: Room 1519
At 02:10 on 7/7/2018 I, S/O Neighbors, received a call from Whatever/Whenever to go to room 1519 for a noise complaint. Upon arrival I heard strange noises coming from the room. I knocked on the door. Mr. Gaoge Xu answered the door. I explained that we received a noise complaint. Mr. Xu explained that they would keep it down. At 02:31 I received a call from Anthony Ward at the Welcome Desk to meet him at room 1519. Upon arrival I met with Anthony Ward who was with an Asian male that appeared to be in his 20s. The man explained that his friend was in room 1519 and that she wanted to leave the room, but the guy would not let her leave. I then knocked on room 1519's door. Mr. Xu answered the door and addressed the man that arrived with Anthony as his "friend". The man went into the room with Mr. Xu and left the room less than a minute later with a female. The female explained that the man in the room tried to take her shirt off. I asked the female if she would like to file a police report multiple times; she declined each time saying she just wanted to go home. At 02:35 I escorted the woman and man off property.

Good morning,
I am Detective Belgarde with Seattle Police Department, I heard that you were the interpreter contact with King County. I do often get incorrect information so if this is not correct I apologize in advance. I am working a sexual assault case where I have several pages of text messages in Chinese that I would like to have transcribed. Could you point me in the direction of one or a couple of potential court certified interpreters? I appreciate any assistance you are able to provide. I use Claudia for Spanish when available, however, this is the first need for Chinese interpretation.

Certification for Determination of Probable Cause

That Anthony M. Belgarde is a Detective with the Seattle Police Department and has reviewed the investigation conducted in Seattle Police Department Case number 2018-249014. There is probable cause to believe that Xu, Gaoe 8-27-1996 committed the crime of RCW 9A.44.060 Rape 3/RCW 9A.40.040 Unlawful Imprisonment with Sexual Motivation within the City of Seattle, County of King, State of Washington. This belief is predicated on the following facts and circumstances.

Gaoe Xu 8-27-1996 used a mobile application, "WeChat" to invite V/Y.W. to be friends. WeChat is an online program that is structured like Facebook. This application allows you to have friends, show interest on a page or wall that you can design and use as an instant messaging service. Xu and Y.W. used this app to communicate for a short time before asking to meet for dinner and to go to a nightclub.

Xu and Y.W. were finally agree on a day and made the arrangement to meet at the Unicorn bar for dinner before going to Foundation nightclub. As Xu and Y.W. made the plans, a discussion of getting Y.W. a fake ID or passport arose. Xu encouraged Y.W. to obtain a friend's passport or to get a fake ID so that she would be able to gain access to the bar and nightclub. Foundation nightclub has security that ensures everyone entering is at least 21-years-old.

Y.W. and a friend, Ma, Wen J aka Jack arrived at Foundation Night Club around 2230 Hours on July 6th of 2018. Y.W. text Xu and asked where he was. Xu, Y.W. and Ma all met outside of Foundation and walked in. Xu ensured that Y.W. who is only 19-years-old got into the 21-year-old and over night club. Xu met other friends inside of Foundation and separated from Y.W. and Ma. After about 30 to 60 minutes, Xu asked Y.W. and Ma if they wanted to go back to his hotel room to drink. Y.W. wanted to see the W Hotel and Ma went as well. Ma drove all three to the W Hotel and followed Xu into the room with Y.W.

Once in the Hotel room, Xu offered both Ma and Y.W. a drink. Y.W. declined initially, however, was finally talked into drinking the alcohol. Xu provided a glass of what was believed by Y.W. to be Vodka. Xu who knew that Y.W. was not the drinking age, talked her into drinking the liquid contained in a 12 Oz glass. A shot of alcohol is approximately 1.5 Oz which shows that this glass is nearly 10 shots. Y.W. began to feel the effects of the alcohol and tried to leave. Xu talked Y.W. into staying when Ma left.

Seattle Police Department Case Investigation Report

Xu wasted no time and began to force himself onto Y.W. Xu started to remove Y.W.'s tight one piece dress causing pain from digging his fingers/hands into her sides. Y.W. told Xu multiple times to stop and that she did not want to have sex with him. Xu continued and ignored Y.W.'s commands to stop. Y.W. attempted to leave the hotel room and Xu physically restrained her. Y.W. was not very strong nor did she have great balance due to the alcohol that Xu talked her into drinking and was easy to contain and keep in the room against her will.

Xu forced his finger(s) inside of Y.W.'s vagina and penetrated while trying to arouse her. Y.W. continued to tell Xu to stop.

Y.W. was able to use her cell phone and the WeChat app to contact Ma where she pleaded and begged for help. In messages received from Y.W. she is begging Ma to return to save her because she is being raped.

Ma returned to the room with Security and was able to go inside and save Y.W. Ma witnessed Y.W. putting her clothing back on and crying. Security asked if they should call the police, however, Y.W. was afraid due to her being underage and having consumed alcohol.

During a phone interview of Xu, he admitted to knowing Y.W. and meeting her at the locations listed. Xu admitted that Y.W. and Ma returned to his hotel, however, stated that nothing happened and they sat looking at the mountains. Xu asked why Y.W. waited so long to report the incident if it really happened. Xu did provide a picture that was sent to him where Y.W. was wearing tight clothing and was interpreted by Xu to be an attempt to turn him on. Reading the messages, Y.W. asked if the outfit was appropriate for the night club and Xu told her no.

Under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Washington, I certify that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief. Signed and dated by me this 7 day of August, at Seattle, Washington.

Seattle Police Department Case Investigation Report

Case Investigation Report: 2018-249014

Investigation:

On 7-6-2018 this case was assigned for review. Upon reviewing the initial police report, I found that V/ [1(d)] met suspect Xu on a cellular phone application called "WeChat." After talking for a while and exchanging phone numbers, [1(d)] and Xu decided to meet in person at Foundation Night Club. [1(d)] arrived at the nightclub with her friend, witness, Ma (AKA Jack) and met Xu. After a while inside of the nightclub the three-left going to Xu's hotel room at the W, a short distance away. Once at the hotel room, Xu offered drinks to both Ma and [1(d)]. Both Ma and [1(d)] initially declined the drink and Xu insisted. Xu told Ma to leave the hotel and to leave [1(d)] there.

Once [1(d)] and Xu were alone he started to make sexual advances towards her. Xu convinced [1(d)] to drink three small glasses of clear liquid believed to be alcohol. [1(d)] attempted to leave but was grabbed by Xu and prevented from leaving the hotel room. [1(d)] told Xu to stop and informed him that she did not want to have sex with him. [1(d)] was unable to move after a while due to the alcohol consumption and possibly being drugged.

[1(d)] was screaming for help as Xu digitally penetrated her. Security came to the room; however, Xu was able to talk them into leaving. [1(d)] messaged and called Ma asking for help. Ma went into the hotel and got security to return to the room with him. This time, [1(d)] left with Ma. Initially [1(d)] declined to have security call 9-1-1.

1. 7-9-2018-1337 Hours- A call was made to [1(d)]. I left a voicemail requesting a call back.
2. 7-9-2018-1345 Hours- [1(d)] returned my call and we set an appointment for 10 July 2018 at 1200 hours. [1(d)] also provided me with her email address at this time.

[1(d)] began to explain how she knew Xu. [1(d)] said that Xu added her on a phone app called WeChat. The two began to talk through the app and [1(d)] believed Xu to be funny and an interesting person. Xu asked [1(d)] to eat and go to a night club, club Foundation with him.

[1(d)] and a friend of hers, Jack, met Xu at Foundation night club. Xu did not waste much time to invite [1(d)] and Jack back to his hotel room. [1(d)] and Jack agreed and Jack drove the three to the hotel. Once inside of the room, Xu forced [1(d)] and Jack to drink. Xu told Jack that he
